

MEMORIAL TO HAY IS CRYSTALLIZING

Friends Arranging to Provide Substantial Testimonial for Wife and Daughter.

FUND WILL BE $10,000

Hay Was Bankrupt Due to Payment of Many Notes He Indorsed for Friends.

"Col. Edwin B. Hay died poor," said Col. George W. Evans, chairman of the executive committee of the Memorial Fund Association, last night, in addressing the Hay memorial meeting, which was held at the National Rifles' Armory. "His books and papers show his estate to be in a pitiful condition. When I had made a thorough investigation of all his personal matters I was astounded at the deplorable condition in which he left his family."

Memorial Mass Meeting.

The meeting was called to order by B. H. Warner, chairman of the property committee, who, after calling Col. Hay, divulged the purpose of the meeting. He made it apparent in a short but forcible address, the necessity for immediate action in formulating a project whereby the widow and daughter of Col. Hay could be provided for. The primary reason for calling the meeting, he said, was for the purpose of establishing plans for a substantial testimonial to the memory of "Ned" Hay, who, during his life, had done more toward uplifting the moral standard of the country than any other man.

Col. Evans, who had been appointed executor of Col. Hay's estate, made some remarkable revelations in the course of his talk. While it had been generally known that "Ned" Hay experienced financial difficulties, yet it was never known that he had suffered appalling reverses as shown last night by Col. Evans.

Hay Died a Poor Man.

"I find that the liabilities of Ned Hay's estate will exceed his assets by more than $15,000," Colonel Evans said. "In the course of my investigation into his affairs I found notes aggregating over $50,000, which he had paid out of his own pocket to save his friends from being inconvenienced."

"To make such noble sacrifices he was compelled to mortgage his property, sell the house over his head, as it were, to save the honor of his good name and protect the reputation of his friends. His death came sudden and unexpected, and found him in deplorable financial circumstances. He had not to his credit enough money with which to pay his funeral expenses. In a few days there will be paid over to his family $3,000 insurance, but this amount will all go toward paying little household bills, which are now being held back pending the receipt of this money."

Thus far over $75 has been contributed toward the fund, which will be subsequently turned over to Mrs. Hay and her daughter. This amount was obtained from members of the executive committee who held a special meeting on Saturday last.

Fund of $10,000 to Be Raised.

Campbell Carrington, in a burst of eloquence, proposed that 100 business and professional men of this city contribute $100 each toward the fund. Suggesting his actions to his words, Mr. Carrington walked to the foot of the stage at the conclusion of his remarks and extended a $100 bill to the chairman. His contribution was followed by others. Others who made addresses were Commissioner Macfarland, William F. Gude, Joseph A. Burkhardt, Charles B. Hanford, Chapin Brown, John B. Jeffrey.

DOING TIME FOR DEBT, PASTOR PRISON COOK

NORTH YAKIMA, Wash., June 25.—The Rev. Herbert D. Stanley, the Methodist preacher who was acquitted in the superior court of obtaining money under false pretenses, but who was immediately rearrested upon request of authorities at Wenatchee, who swore to a warrant charging him with jumping a $50 bond bill, still languishes in the county jail.

NEW INSECT TO KILL OFF ALL POTATO BUGS

AMPTON, Ky., June 25.—Captain W. L. Hurst, of this city, has succeeded in breeding an insect that is a deadly foe to the potato bug. He calls it the "Stranger."

The new insect is black in color, twice the size of the ordinary housefly, and has a long stinger that it injects into the defenseless potato bug.

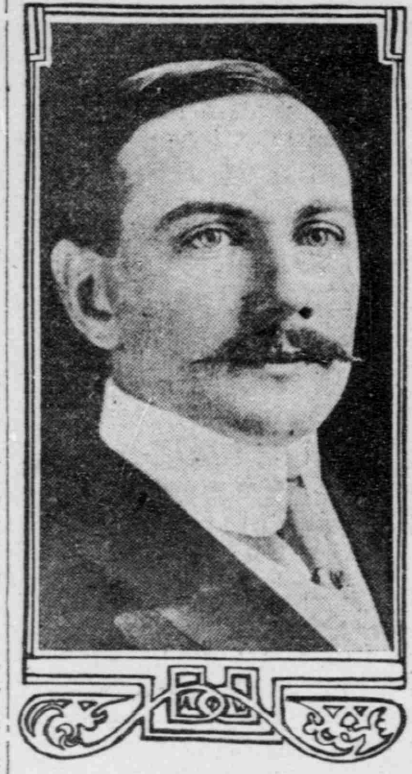

Captain Hurst says that a dozen of these "Strangers" will keep clear an acre of potatoes. Specimens of them will be sent to the Kentucky experimental station, at Lexington, for further investigation.

MAYNARD IS CONSUL TO BRITISH BORNEO

LESTER MAYNARD,
Named by President for Important Post in Far East.

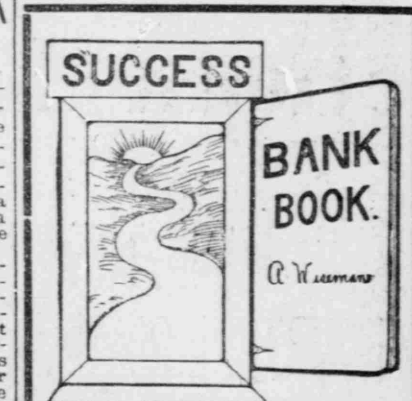

California Newspaper Man First Appointee to Position.

For the first time the United States will have a consulate at British North Borneo, that picturesque island, the largest in the world, which lies only 120 miles from Jolo, one of the Philippine Islands. This was provided for yesterday in the appointment by President Roosevelt of Lester Maynard, a well-known American journalist and globe-trotter. The consulate will be one of the furthest from Washington and due to its proximity to the Philippines, will, no doubt, soon rank as one of the most important.

Mr. Maynard is a Californian, a newspaper man by profession and widely traveled. He has been around the world a number of times and saw service as a newspaper man and war correspondent in Europe, the Philippines, Australia and many European countries. His most notable newspaper work was as editor of a Manila weekly, the Critic, during the early days of American occupation. The difficulties of publishing a newspaper in those days in the Philippines can well be imagined.

A Bank Book Will Open the Door of Success!

That gray-haired man who still goes to work every morning and comes home tired every night could give you a real heart-felt, heart-to-heart talk on the advantages of saving in early life. He could tell you something about the power of money.

"Taking it easy" is better than "still working for a living." Think it over, young man, then come in and talk it over with us. Don't "wait until"—this or that. "Time flies"—so does money. We can put a 3 per cent interest chain to it.

TWO BODIES STILL IN THE POTOMAC

Volunteers Assisting Harbor Police in Searching for Corpses of Drowned.

CURRENTS TREACHEROUS

Believed by Rivermen That it Will Be Several Days Before Bodies Can Be Recovered.

Both the harbor police, under Captain Sutton, and the volunteer boatmen who have been dragging the Potomac for the victims of the two canoe accidents Sunday, believe that it will be several days before the body of Robert Purcell can be recovered. They have grappled again and again without avail in locating the body of Mrs. Edward R. Saalbach.

Captain Reynolds' Good Work.

The body of Mr. Saalbach was found by Mr. Reynolds at noon yesterday about 200 yards below Ferguson's rock, where the accident occurred. Mr. Reynolds is captain of the volunteer life saving crew, and owns a boat on the foot of Thirty-fourth street. He caught the body the first time he dropped the books.

Mr. Saalbach's remains have been claimed by his brother-in-law, J. E. Metzger, but will be left at the morgue for a few days in the hope that Mrs. Saalbach's body will be found.

Rapids Are Treacherous.

At the place where Robert Purcell met his death the currents are so swift and treacherous that it is almost impossible for the little boats to keep off the rocks. This makes the dragging doubly difficult. It is impossible for the police boat to get near enough the rapids to do effective work.

Owing to the nature of the currents in the vicinity of the dam over which Purcell was swept, many of the rivermen believe that when the body is finally recovered it will be several miles down the stream.

NEW HOTEL COMPANY MAKING GOOD PROGRESS

The new hotel company that intends building on the corner of Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue has opened offices at 1339 New York avenue, and is progressing rapidly in its plans. Estimates are being received and it is probable that all arrangements will be completed in a few weeks. Building will not be commenced before next fall, as several tenants have leases which do not expire until that time.

ZELAYA DENIES SEPARATION STORY

Couple Living Happily in Modest Home Near Business Center of City.

WILL GO TO NICARAGUA

Position in New York Would Not Support Two There So Wife Came to Washington.

Alphonse Zelaya, son of the President of Nicaragua, and his bride, formerly Miss Marguerite Baker, of 1841 North Capitol street, whose marriage several months ago against the wishes of the young man's father, was said to have ended unfortunately when Mrs. Zelaya returned to her home a few weeks ago, and was reported to have begun annulment proceedings, are living happily in a modest home near the business center of the city.

Denies Story of Separation.

"The stories of our separation," he said this morning, "are all lies. We still love each other, and the charges that I treated my wife cruelly are lies of the whole cloth."

"My father is still angry with me," continued Zelaya, "and would not send me money. I obtained a position in New York, but the salary was not sufficient for both to live on there. Mrs. Zelaya came to Washington until I could get something better. I want to work, but it is hard to get a good position in this country. I am going to Nicaragua the latter part of this week or the first of next, and be sure and make it plain that Mrs. Zelaya is going with me."

He Worked in New York.

"In New York the work was hard and the pay was small, and that's why I'm going home to the President. I have never said anything about a man in my station not working, or that I should live in fine hotels. I do not expect my father to give me lots of money, but I thought he would help me a little."

President Zelaya has been violently opposed to the marriage with the young American girl, and according to young Zelaya he is still of the same mind. They will seek to pacify him, however, and hope that a reconciliation will be effected.

Zelaya says he called on the President at the White House yesterday to get certain letters of recommendation for use in Nicaragua. Owing to the pressure of business the President could not see Zelaya, but promised to talk with him when Congress adjourned.
